WHY JOIN A STATE TRUCKING ASSOCIATION?

Joining a state trucking association involves a commitment of time and money. Are the benefits really worth it? You bet! Here's why:

Advocacy - State trucking associations work on your behalf to represent unified views on the legislative front and other issues of importance to the industry.

Information - The association has resources and contacts on many topics, such as market size, buying trends, industry issues, research, training, technical advice and more.

Networking - A valuable benefit is the opportunity to learn new ideas and perspectives from your peers at association functions, as our probable share many mutual challenges and concerns.

Services - Many associations offer special benefits to members such as endorsed health insurance plans, drug testing programs and discounted supplies.

Leadership - Associations are often the leaders of industry-wide action on issues. Be a part of the planning that can make a difference.

Education - An association provides you with thought provoking seminars with business experts along with training for compliance with rules, laws and regulations.

Vision - All the information you gather from association seminars and publications helps you fine tune your business plan for the future.
